

239.32 FAILURE TO REPORT THE DISAPPEARANCE OF A CHILD TO LAW ENFORCEMENT. FELONY.

The defendant has been charged with the crime of failure to report the disappearance of a child to law enforcement.<sup>1</sup>

For you to find the defendant guilty of this offense, the State must prove two things beyond a reasonable doubt.

First, that the defendant was a [parent] [person] who was [providing care to] [supervising]<sup>2</sup> a child less than 16 years of age.

Second, that the defendant [knowingly] [wantonly] failed to report the disappearance of a child<sup>3</sup> to law enforcement. A child is deemed to have disappeared when the [parent] [person] who was [providing care to] [supervising] the child does not know the location of the child and has not had contact with the child for a 24-hour period.

If you find from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that on or about the alleged date the defendant was a [parent] [person] who was [providing care to] [supervising] a child less than 16 years of age and that the defendant [knowingly] [wantonly] failed to report the disappearance of the child to law enforcement, it would be your duty to return a verdict of guilty. If you do not so find or if you have a reasonable doubt as to one or more of these things, it would be your duty to return a verdict of not guilty.
